Kate owns up: The rain is my fault. Back in May I put this in the notice sheet:

*Gather ye rose petals during May,
The sun, it is a-frying.*

*Thus if you wait 'til late in June
You'll find it's no use trying!*

It's back this week by popular request, even though it hardly fits the current climate. Rose Petal Sunday is next week. If it ever stops raining, please collect whatever petals you can find, and bring them along to church on Sunday morning.
